Psychology

This is my story from a few years ago. I feel that it is one of the moments and adventures with the most meaning and importance in my life, since for me it was showing me many things and within them that dreams come true.

In 2018 I was 22 years old, I worked at Cinépolis, I was a master's student in applied psychology. At that time my parents didn't let me go out much, much less outside the state of Chiapas. but thanks to a concert I went to with the band Caifanes in Tuxtla, I started to love going to concerts and festivals, it has been one of the best things and experiences of my life.

I want to mention that I like Rock music and I have a favorite band called Guns And Roses, they are a classic band from the 1980s, from which they had already been separated for twenty years. In 2016 they reunited for their last world tour, something impressive and never expected.

That year they arrived in Mexico City and I couldn't go, it was very sad, I thought I had lost the opportunity of a lifetime, but I was only 18 years old and my parents didn't let me go, but in 2018 They did a second tour, this time for the city of Monterrey and without thinking or knowing I bought my ticket.

I waited several months until November 3rd arrived, three days before I traveled to Monterrey to take advantage and get to know, in which I went to an amusement park, the zoo, the stadiums, the foundry park where the Santa Lucia promenade is located, Also the downtown area and old neighborhood, I really fell in love with that city, I hope to live there one day.

The day arrived, I got up early, had a good breakfast and we went to the foundry park, that day I became the girlfriend of a boy I broke up with a year ago, by the way, a six-year courtship. But that's not the important thing, what is important is that I saw my favorite band, the best experience in my life, I cried a lot with happiness, I took a lot of photos and I couldn't believe that I fulfilled a dream that I thought was impossible.

In conclusion I can say that dreams do come true and that as long as you can do something that makes you happy, never limit yourself because there is only one life and time, take many photos and videos because when you are old that will feed your soul.
