in my life in the that change my personality was necessary .

Desarrollo

In my life waited an change in the people went wait that yesterday went today my friends they betrayed my love betrayed me I was waiting visites very places an beautiful lake beautiful forest very beautiful animales walked together see very movie the romantic action and so on listening to music together talked of difference topics both with he with My friends. But they did and thought different me. Told things false the me and they played with my love Because all I gave was love and I received betrayal and I was accused I decides sit down and watch how not with they not talked not called not did nothing I focused on my self visites places alone I saw me I sow movie romantic action and so on me took liqueur alone. I discovered to my Best friend and the love of my life in me and I Will continue working on my because it's what matters most to me now. Today I love myself very much .
