

Universidad del sureste

JONATAN CORREA ALEJANDRO

RACING DRIVER

INGLES II

RACING DRIVER

- A racing driver is a person who drives a vehicle in a motor sport competition. Your goal is to cover a certain distance in the shortest time possible without leaving the track.
- Responsibilities Take care of fuel consumption, Avoid tire wear, Get the most out of the vehicle without damaging it, Follow safety regulations.
- there are several categories Among them are formula one, resistance, indycar, formula e, rally, nascar, etc.

Formula one

- To be a Formula 1 driver it is necessary to obtain a Super License, which must be renewed every year. To obtain the Superlicense, a series of strict requirements must be met Aspiring F1 drivers must have experience racing in some of the categories governed by the FIA
- To be a formula driver, you need to be fast and have skill when driving without making the smallest possible mistakes.

TEAMS

- In Formula 1 there are 10 teams. Each team has two cars, so 20 cars participate in each Grand Prix.
- Formula 1 teams compete for the drivers' championship and the constructors' championship.
- Scuderia Ferrari
- Oracle Red Bull Racing
- Mercedes-AMG PETRONAS Formula One Team
- Aston Martin Aramco Formula One Team
- BWT Alpine F1 Team
- Williams
- Visa Cash App RB F1 Team
- Kick Sauber
- Haas
- mclaren formula one team

Formula one

- What I like about Formula One is that we see accidents, overtaking, fights between drivers and team managers. I consider it exciting to see 10 cars race for one or two hours every Sunday.
- Each pilot has a salary that ranges from 2 million to 65 million

