

Tuxtla Gutiérrez is a vibrant city surrounded by lush natural beauty. Known as the "Gateway to the Jungle", it's a tourist destination that offers a rich cultural and adventure experience, with its impressive canyons, crystal-clear rivers, and nearby Mayan ruins.

In the heart of Tuxtla Gutiérrez lies the Parque Central, a vibrant square surrounded by historic buildings such as the Cathedral of San Marcos and the Government Palace. To the north of the park is the neighborhood of El Centro, known for its traditional shops and colonial architecture.

To get around the city, there are several transportation options. The city's bus system is an affordable and convenient way to explore, with routes covering much of the city. Taxis and ride-hailing services are also available, offering a quick and easy way to get around.

Where is the Chiapas Coffee Museum? To get there, you can take a taxi or bus from the city center and head towards the Parque de la Marimba, located in the heart of Tuxtla Gutiérrez.

From there, walk north along Boulevard Belisario Domínguez for about 10 minutes until you reach the Coffee Museum, located in the heart of Tuxtla Gutiérrez. Don't miss the opportunity to visit this iconic cultural landmark of Chiapas!

In short, Tuxtla Gutiérrez is a tourist destination that offers a rich cultural and natural experience. With its iconic landscapes like the Sumidero Canyon, efficient public transportation, and a variety of traditional Chiapas cuisine options, it's a place you should visit at least once in your life.