MY AUTOBIOGRAPHY

My name is Kevin Omar Xiloj Alvizures. I am 15 years old, and I was born on June 25, 2009, in San Marcos, Guatemala. For the past 9 years, I have been living in Mexico, specifically in the Mariano N. Ruíz neighborhood in Comitán de Domínguez, Chiapas. I consider myself to be patient, honest, and sensitive—qualities that help me face daily challenges with a steady heart.

On school days, I wake up at 6:45 in the morning. I quickly wash my face, put on my uniform, have a healthy breakfast, and comb my hair before leaving for school. I depart at 1:50 p.m. and usually arrive home around 2:20 p.m. Once home, I have lunch, and if I have homework, I do it even if I am not in the mood. On days without assignments, I relax by watching television or playing video games.

In the afternoons, I love cycling because it gives me a chance to exercise and explore my surroundings. Video games are another favorite pastime, as they entertain me and offer new challenges. However, I do not enjoy noisy environments or stressful homework that makes me anxious.

I am naturally a shy and serious person, which sometimes makes socializing a bit difficult, so I usually have only a few close friends. I can run, exercise, listen to music, and read, but I cannot swim or play any musical instruments. Every day, I work on improving myself and finding new ways to enjoy life.

What do I want to achieve in life?

Am I good at flirting, or should I improve my social skills?

If today were my last day, what would I do to make it memorable?
