

MiUniversidad

Comparatives and superlatives

Nombre del Alumno : Erick Samuel Aguilar Moreno

Parcial: II

Nombre de la Materia : English 4

Nombre del profesor : Deicy Fabiola López

Nombre de la Licenciatura : Tecnico en enfermeria

Cuarto Semestre

Describing and Comparing: Superlatives and Comparatives

Introduction

This text compares three legendary athletes: Lionel Messi, Usain Bolt, and Michael Phelps. I chose them because they represent excellence in different sports. Messi is a football genius, Bolt is the fastest man in history, and Phelps is the most decorated Olympic swimmer. Each of them has dominated their sport with incredible achievements.

Comparisons

Lionel Messi is more skilled with a ball than Usain Bolt or Michael Phelps. However, Bolt is faster than both Messi and Phelps, holding world records in the 100m and 200m sprints. Phelps is more decorated than either of them in terms of Olympic medals.

Usain Bolt is the fastest athlete in history. Michael Phelps is the most successful Olympic athlete of all time. Lionel Messi is the most creative and consistent footballer in modern history.

Conclusion

My favorite is Lionel Messi. His talent, vision, and passion for the game make him unique. While Bolt and Phelps are legends, Messi's style and impact on football make him the greatest in my eyes.

