MY UNIVERSITY PLAN

Last weekend I went to a university event with my friends. We were dancing when the light suddenly went out. I was wearing my favorite shirt, but it got stained with juice. After that, we laughed a lot and had a good time.

This week, I have completed all my assignments on time. I have already talked to my teacher about my grades. I have started reading a new book about fundamentals in nursing.

Next week I am going to travel to another city for a student conference. I will give a short presentation about mental health. I am going to meet new people and learn from their experiences.

In the future I will be working as a great nurse, and I will have chosen a specialization that I'm passionate about. I will be helping many people in a hospital and improving lives every day.
